The ISRT Board of Directors is current looking for students interested in serving as Student Interns for the 2013-2014 term. This is an invitation for all students to consider becoming an active part of the state professional society through the Student Intern Program.

The purpose of the ISRT Student Intern Program is to foster knowledgeable students with insight into the activities, functions, purpose and goals of the Indiana Society of Radiologic Technologists and to increase student participation and involvement in your professional organization. This is your opportunity to prepare yourself as a future leader in our profession.

Complete information about the program and application can be found on the ISRT website www.isort.org. Deadline to apply is August 15, 2013.

2013 Election notification was emailed to the voting membership in July. Voting members can cast their electronic ballot choices until August 15, 2013. Election results will be announced during the 2013 Annual Conference in October at the Holiday Inn Airport in Evansville, IN.

REFLECTING ON A BUSY YEAR

By Patricia Cohen, RT(R)

Since our Annual Meeting in September, 2012, the Board of Directors has been very busy. We typically hold the first BOD meeting sometime during the Annual Conference (AC). This past year, it was held at night and adjourned at approximately 10:00 p.m. During that meeting, we recognized six Student Interns, reviewed what is expected of a Board Member, greeted new officers and committee chairpersons, and set future dates for the remainder of the 2012-2013 year.

Not long after our AC had finished, I was off to a meeting of the Indiana Radiological Society (IRS) which is the Society that radiologists belong to; not to be confused with the “other” IRS. As the ISRT President, I serve as the Liaison to the IRS. I attended their BOD meeting in October and had prepared a report letting them know some of the things the ISRT had done during the past year. I briefed them on the status of the CARE Bill, talked with them about the MARCA Bill, shared with them the success of our AC, and told them how much money the ISRT was able to pass out in scholarships earlier in the spring.

In November, I tapped into some resources offered by the ASRT. I work in a cardiac cath lab and really felt a need to share with my co-workers what the Indiana State Law says about who can do what in a cath lab. The ASRT was offering a free review of lecture material during NRTW in order to give one Category ‘A’ CEU to RT(R)’s. I am fortunate enough to have a rapport with Kelly Hart from IUPUI, and she came to our department and gave a very informative lecture about the ISDH and who is allowed to do what in the lab.

I also join the ASRT On-line Leadership Academy that teaches participants about non-profit organizations, governance and leadership skills. This is a six-week program that one can do in the comfort of their own home, and it doesn’t cost anything. For graduation, the ASRT is bringing me to the House of Delegates meeting in June 2013 in Albuquerque, NM. I will finish my course there, attend meetings where policies that affect all RT(R)’s across the country are developed, and attend lectures for up to six CEU’s. All of this is at no cost to me or to our Society. I strongly recommend that if anyone would like to become an officer of the ISRT, please apply to this program.

In the Spring, it was time to pack for the trip to Washington, DC. There were five RTs and two Student Interns that went to discuss the CARE Bill with Indiana’s Congressmen and Senators. The ASRT presented their new tactic for getting the Bill passed. (You’ll just have to read more of this journal to learn more about that Strategy!) There was a special contest on the ISRT’s web-site, and one lucky RT was awarded money to cover airfare and hotel to attend RT in DC. Congratulations go to Mari Sanders from Ft. Wayne. We cannot always offer money for a trip, but it does pay off to visit the website, you just never know what you may find.

Spring also brings about graduation for our student radiographers. The ISRT awarded three student scholarships to very deserving and dedicated students. I was honored to deliver those checks to Joshua Lawson, Lindsay Ganshorn and Danielle Guess, all from Ball State University’s program. It was wonderful to speak with the class and answer questions they had concerning the ISRT. Students...this is FREE money! Please take the time to look at our website, www.isort.org, for information and an application for a scholarship. ISRT also gives money to a licensed RT for continuing their education.

There was a one-day seminar in Bloomington for Radiation Therapy professionals. Five CEU’s were offered and the attendees were very happy with the lecture agenda.

Technology brought us a new situation this year. We recognized the need for a social media policy, and have established a committee to work on creating a policy that will carry the Society forward. We have been actively keeping the Facebook page up-to-date; you can find us at Indiana Society of Radiologic Technologists. There are tons of pics to view, you just might see someone you know.

Joy Nellis joined the Executive Staff as Webmaster. She has been very busy implementing an on-line voting area. We can all look forward to casting our votes for next year’s officers on the ISRT website, more information will follow.
The Society now has a new email address, IMAGING@isort.org; we can also be reached via the website’s “contact us” link. Your comments, questions and concerns are very important to us, please feel free to let us know what is on your mind.

It has been a very busy year so far, and one that I must say will forever remain in my memory. Joy Cook, President-Elect, and her Annual Conference committee have been working very hard to prepare for the 2013 AC. This year, we will be in Evansville on October 3rd – 4th. We all look forward to seeing you there; and let’s wish the committee the best of conferences.

Submit an Article for Publication

Become a contributor for the ISRT Journal. Submit articles, noteworthy events, and other ideas to the Editor for consideration. For article submissions: Please submit an electronic copy of the material saved in Microsoft Word. The author’s full name and address should appear on the material. Previously published articles must have written permission to reprint by the publisher and author.

2013 ISRT Bylaws Revision

The 2013 ISRT Committee on Bylaws is pleased to present a Bylaws Revision for consideration. The committee decided to submit a revision for several reasons, including:

- A revision is an efficient method of making multiple changes to an organization’s bylaws. According to Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised, “Changes of the bylaws that are so extensive and general that they are scattered throughout the bylaws should be effected through the substitution of an entirely new set of bylaws, called a revision.”
- Many areas of the Bylaws needed simple language changes to reflect current terminology. With a revision, members will not be required to vote on each of these minor editorial changes individually.

Here is general information about how the revision will be handled in the business session:

- The chairman of the Committee on Bylaws will move the adoption of the revision to replace the current Bylaws.
- The chair will state the motion and ask for discussion. At this time, any member may bring forward amendments. Each amendment will be voted on. If the amendment is approved by majority vote, it will be included in the revision.
- After all amendments to the revision have been made, the entire revision will be opened one last time for further amendments.
- After the members have completed their amendments to the revision, the chair will ask for a final vote on the entire revision and the members will vote.
- If the revision is adopted by a two-thirds vote, the revision will replace the current Bylaws.
- If the revision is not adopted, the current Bylaws will remain in effect.
- The current Bylaws cannot be amended at this year’s business session.

Special Rules are handled separately from the Bylaws and require a majority vote with previous notice to the members. The chair will present changes to the Special Rules following the Bylaw Revision.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCES & SEMINARS CAN’T HAPPEN WITHOUT VOLUNTEERS TO PLAN AND HOST THEM

ANNUAL CONFERENCE
ONE DAY SEMINAR

Don’t let these events FADE AWAY. The ISRT depends on its membership to plan and host the Annual Conference and One Day Seminars held throughout the year for the purpose of completing business and providing continuing education credits to its members. Without volunteers to organize and plan these events they would not happen. All committee members automatically receive complimentary registration to the meeting. To show their appreciation for volunteering to Chair these events, the ISRT pays a commission as well as 10% of the profit which is over and above the budgeted profit amount set by the ISRT Financial committee from the conference or seminar to the hosting individuals. The standard commission amounts are:

- Annual Conference $300
- One Day Seminar $100

Guideline Manuals and mentors are available to help you through the planning process. Please consider planning a future event, the ISRT needs members like YOU to keep from FADING AWAY.

If you are interested in learning more about being a conference or seminar host please contact any of the ISRT Board of Directors. Contact information can be found on the ISRT website at www.isort.org or email imaging@isort.org.
The Committee on Bylaws worked diligently to prepare a comprehensive Bylaws Revision. The table below describes the changes that are included in the revision. We encourage members to familiarize themselves with this information.

A Day at the Proton Therapy Center

The Indiana University Health Proton Therapy Center in Bloomington hosted a one day seminar on April 13, 2013. The event was a general education program for radiology professionals with a proton therapy focus. The educational program included lectures about Complementary Therapy in Cancer Symptom Management, Proton Therapy Treatments from a Patient’s Perspective, Medical Malpractice, and an inside look at the proton therapy facility. After a day of excellent speakers, attendees were given a behind the scenes tour of the facility. Thank you Dawn Wallace, Amanda Caruso, Katlin Kuhn, and Traci Conley for planning and hosting this great event!

PASSING THE TORCH

By Jane Patton, RT(R)

In 2005 I became your Executive Secretary. I dove in head first and prepared to tackle the endless tasks that defined the position. I had Donna Long, only an email or phone call away, to help me through my first year. I still require Donna’s assistance occasionally, mostly to confirm what I know is correct to actually be correct. After eight years, eight different Boards of Directors, and eight Annual Conferences I am prepared to step aside and welcome a new Executive Secretary. It’s with great pleasure that I introduce my successor, Michelle ‘Missy’ Fritz, as the newest Executive Secretary of the ISRT. I will always be available for Missy as Donna was for me, to offer help through the rough spots and celebrate the achievements.

So, as my final submission to the ISRT Journal as the Executive Secretary, I have chosen to tell you about Missy. Her full name is Michelle Lynn Fritz and she is the Clinical Director for the IPFW Radiography Program in Fort Wayne. “Seeing students faces light up when they finally understand a difficult concept” is what she likes most about her job. Missy wanted to get involved in the day to day functioning of the Society and looks forward to learning how the Society as a whole functions.

I asked Missy a series of random questions to learn more about her and after reading her answers I found we have a lot in common.

- If you had a super power what would it be? Invisibility
- What is your favorite TV show? American Restoration (making things new again)
- What is your favorite flavor of jelly beans? Orange
- Which flavor of ice-cream do you prefer? Chocolate
- What do you think is your very best feature or characteristic? I like to laugh
- What is your strongest talent? My ability to adapt to new situations
- What is your favorite color? Yellow (its happy)
- What is your favorite home cooked meal? Pot roast
- How many siblings do you have? 1 brother
- What is your favorite electronic device? iPad
- Do you have pets? One dog (Sandy a wheaten terrier)
- Who is your favorite author? Nora Roberts
- Where did you spend your last family vacation? Texas
- Do you prefer pens or pencils? Inkjoy pens
- If you could be any animal which one would you prefer to be and why? A dog. They are so happy and carefree
- What is your favorite season and why? Summer because I love spending time in the sun and pool
- Do you play a musical instrument, if so which one(s)? Piano (but only Christmas tunes now)
- What is your favorite all-time movie? Seven Brides for Seven Brothers
- If you had to be stranded on a deserted island with one person who would you want that one person to be? My husband
- Do you like sweet treats or salty treats? Mixed (salty and sweet together)
- What was the last movie you saw in a theater? They have movies at the theater?? It has been a while Breaking Dawn Part II??
- If you could go anywhere in the world on vacation, where would it be and who would it be with? Atlantis Paradise Island with my family

Missy will do a fantastic job as the ISRT Executive Secretary. I look forward to helping her learn her new position and staying involved with the ISRT in other ways. You will continue to see me around, as I hope I continue to see all of you from time to time at ISRT events. Thanks for the past eight years!
Every spring for the past four years, I have traveled to Washington, DC for the ASRT’s RT in DC event; the first such event was held in April 1999. Some of you may know this as a time for RTs from across the country to converge on Capital Hill to meet with respective state Representatives and talk about the CARE Bill. Some of you might not be familiar with the CARE Bill, that’s okay. “The Consistency, Accuracy, Responsibility and Excellence in Medical Imaging and Radiation Therapy (CARE) bill seeks to protect patients from overexposure to radiation during radiologic procedures and help reduce the cost of administering health care. The bill pursues basic educational and certification standards for health care workers who administer radiologic procedures in every state in the union.” (American Society of Radiologic Technologists, 2013)

Many, many different interest groups are visiting the Hill at the same time. We make quite a statement by wearing white lab coats as we walk back and forth across the Hill and wait in security check lines. That is a great time to talk with the average citizen and tell them why we are there. First, let’s talk about how we managed to get to the Hill.

My husband, Steve, and I arrived in D.C. on Sunday afternoon. Sometimes, people arrive a day or two earlier, or later, and take in some sightseeing. We opted to make this trip a quick one. After getting settled into our hotel room and resting for a bit, we attended the ASRT Welcoming Reception. This is when we pick up our badges, information for classes and meet with both new and old friends from across the country. Each year, I feel as if I have become acquainted with more RTs that all have the same goal in mind. It is a great time to learn how other State Affiliates are operating and find out some of the projects they work on in their state. After a long day of traveling and visiting, it’s off to bed to get enough rest so that we can sit in classes on Monday.

Our day begins with a breakfast buffet at 8:00 a.m. After we are full, the studying begins. This year, Dr. Sal Martino, CEO for the ASRT, opened with a short discussion about education and certification standards. Sal began as an RT(R) and continued his studies to reach PhD. He did let us know that this year is the last year for a two-day event. Next year, the ASRT is talking about having RTs come in for only one day to overtake the Hill.

We also learned that since the ASRT has been working on the CARE Bill for over fourteen years, they have decided to make a change in the approach. Up to this point, they have always tried to get it passed as a “stand alone bill”, meaning they did not want any other bills added to it. “The ASRT is currently pursuing the insertion of amendatory language that incorporates consistent education and certification standards into any federal bill that includes Medicare provisions. This includes bills addressing sequestration, the debt ceiling and entitlement reform.” (American Society of Radiologic Technologists, 2013)

By attaching it to anything mentioning Medicare, ASRT is very hopeful that in the near future, the CARE Bill will become a law.

We continue with lectures all day about imaging technology updates, Medicare reimbursement, Federal legislation updates and even some role playing on how to talk with the Representatives on the Hill. The day ended with a wonderful dinner at 6:00 p.m. After dinner, we are on our own until 7:30 a.m. the following day. Time to do research on the biographies of the Representatives we will see on Tuesday; and then, to rest. Whew! What a day.

Cab rides are like taking a ride on The Beast at King’s Island. We try to pack as many people into a cab as possible; that way, we’re not sliding across the seats every time they take a corner. Our Legislative Chairperson, Steve Cohen, made all the appointments for us and we buddied up to visit each office for Indiana. We have found from past experience that if one person sets the appointments, it can save us from walking back and forth all day. The distance between the Senate side and the Congress side of the Hill is about one mile, one way.

Our first office was Senator Donnelly, and our appointment was with his Legislative Assistant (LA). We did get to meet the Senator and shake his hand, but he was in a hurry to another meeting. Most of the time, appointments are with an LA and sometimes it will be in the hallway. The LAs are the persuasion people in the office. They will give recommendations to their boss on whether to support a bill or not. Remember, I mentioned there are many, many groups there at the same time. So, there may be a meeting already going on inside the office and we get what we get.

Steve got to enter the voting chambers of the Capital to meet with Congresswoman Susan Brooks. Two RTs from our group, Lynn Howley and Mari Sanders, got to meet Congressmen Todd Young and Luke Messer.

While we were meeting one LA in the hallway, Steve got a call from our airline telling us that our flight for the next day was being cancelled. He hurriedly made arrangements for us to leave that night before the blizzard hit. That was a huge no show, the people of DC referred to it as the “Snowquester”.

To date, Indiana has five co-sponsors; Representatives Luke Messer, Larry Buschon, Andre’ Carson, Todd Rokita and Susan Brooks. If you do not see your representative listed here, please call or email them and ask them to become a co-sponsor of the CARE Bill, H.R. 1146 in Congress and S. 642 in the Senate. You can find your Representative and their contact information by going to www.asrt.org and clicking on “ASRT eAdvocacy for You.”

Well, it is another new year, and the CARE BILL is still floating around in Washington, DC. I am sure that all of you know the CARE BILL has been around for many, many years. This past March, I went to Washington, DC with Patricia Cohen, Lynn Howley, Donna Long, Mari Sanders and 2 of our Student Interns, Danielle Guess and Kate Richmond, to attend the RT in DC event. This had been my 5th time representing Indiana. The event focused on the latest information on the CARE BILL and how to lobby our lawmakers.

On Monday, we spent all day listening to lectures outlining updates on the CARE BILL. We also had a time for role playing, showing first time attendees, and refreshing those returning, how to lobby their Congressmen and Congresswomen.

Tuesday, we hit the Hill! We had a total of ten appointments while we were in DC, and several of those times had to be changed while we were there. We spend a lot of our time walking across the Hill while talking and rescheduling appointments via cellphone. As it turned out, only one Indiana Representative was not able to meet with us. All of the appointments went well. Some of the legislative assistants that we met had stated they were very receptive to our bill; of course, that only matters if their boss becomes a co-sponsor.

When you go into the buildings that house our U.S. Representatives, or U.S. Senators, you have to go through security. You cannot imagine all of the different groups that are converging on Capitol Hill with their own causes. When we met with the Legislative Assistants, there were times we had to meet in the hallway, it gets that crowded in those offices. We did have a chance (this is the first time that this has happened) to meet personally with three of our U.S. Representatives. I had the pleasure and great experience to meet one of our newest legislators to Congress, Congresswoman Susan Brooks.

Our appointment was scheduled for 3:15 p.m. Wouldn’t you know, I get a call that morning from her Legislative Assistant, Emily, asking me if we could reschedule the appointment for 1:45 p.m. I certainly was not going to say no. When I met Emily a little before the appointment, she told me that we would have to meet the Congresswoman inside the Capitol Building. I have taken one of the public tours of the Capitol Building where you can only go to specific areas.

So, we start our walk from the Congresswoman’s office down to the basement of her building, and started a long, long walk going through the tunnel to the Capitol Building. We finally reached the Capitol Building only to be greeted by, you guessed it, security. We had to do this one more time, I was given a special badge to wear so that I could go into the voting area.

We finally arrive to this huge room and I see many legislators talking to individuals from all walks of life. I have seen some of these legislators on TV, but couldn’t tell you their names. This was an area where the Congressmen/Congresswomen could meet with individuals, but still be close to the floor of the House and Senate, if a vote on any bills was imminent. Luckily, I was able to spend about twenty minutes with Congresswoman Brooks. It was a great experience. During our talk, she said that she had met the CEO and one of the doctors from my place of work. What a small world!

While we were waiting to meet with one of the Legislative Assistants, we were told that a snowstorm was going to hit DC the next day. I got a phone call from US Airways cancelling our flight for Wednesday. Imagine
RT in DC Veteran Shares Her Experience

By Lynn Howley, RT(R)(BD)

It was once again an honor and privilege to be one of the ISRT Representatives for RT in DC in 2013. I was lucky enough to meet personally with Rep. Todd Young and Rep. Luke Messer. I reside in Rep. Messer’s district, he is a neighbor and we have several common acquaintances and he knows my parents. It was so nice after talking business to talk home (people we know, Shelby County) with Rep. Messer. While on the Hill, the group split up and visited all of the offices for those representing Indiana in DC. Some visits are what we call drop bys, where we just stop and drop off our information. Other visits where formal sit down one on ones with the Health LA’s.

During several of the visits we were lucky enough to talk to the actual Representative. Senator Joe Donnelly was in his office and stopped to say hi to our group on his way to the floor to vote. The House and Senate sides were hopping as there were active votes and discussion taking place on both floors. I think this was the most activity that I have seen on either side in the years that I have gone to DC. Maybe they are seeing the light… Some of our visits were cut short as several had early flights out of DC due to the impending snow storm that was to hit that night. They had cancelled all flights for the following day out of DC. I think my flight at 10pm was the last flight out of DC. I knew it was bad in Indy, but thankfully my flight was not cancelled. It took me nearly 2 hours to get home from the airport on a normally 45 minutes drive. I was never so happy to be home as I was that morning!

On Sunday prior to our welcome reception I made a quick trip to the National Cathedral. This was amazing! Words cannot describe it! It is a must see in DC. On the Monday morning, before the formal meetings started, I had the opportunity to wake up early and attend morning mass at St. Matthew’s Cathedral, which was right around the corner from our hotel. It was also the site of President John Kennedy’s funeral mass and many well known politicians and world leaders, including Pope John Paul, have attended catholic mass there. It was a gorgeous cathedral and I was so happy that I woke up early and went to mass. I also lit a prayer candle for my dad, who is battling Non-Hodgkin’s Lymphoma and was in the hospital while I was in DC. Lighting candles is a Catholic tradition.

trying to reschedule a flight out of DC while sitting in the hallway of a Congressional building. It’s a good thing that we are taught flexibility as an RT. We were able to get a flight to Indianapolis that night. The snowstorm; well I think they called it Snowquester! Not one inch of snow, just rain.

All in all, it was a great trip and great experience. Indiana was represented by a great group of Medical Imaging professionals. We have been told that there probably won’t be a RT in DC event after this year; but I understand that we will have some type of event next year, if only for one day. The ASRT wants to get as many technologists to converge on DC as possible. It is possible that the name will change to Hill Day or it may still be called RT in DC. Whatever it is called, I will be there to advocate for my profession.

We have 5 co-sponsors from Indiana for the CARE BILL. They are Congressman Buschon, Carson, Rokita and Congresswoman Brooks.

It is so important to get the CARE BILL passed in Congress. How can you help? Go to the ASRT “eAdvocacy for You” site http://capwiz.com/asrt/home/ and click on the “Take Action” button. Just enter your zip code to generate who you need to contact. That is it! Do your part today.

REMEMBER--- THIS IS YOUR PROFESSION AND THIS IS YOUR FUTURE!!

BE PROACTIVE AND SPREAD THE WORD!!

The American Society of Radiologic Technologists held its 2013 Annual Governance and House of Delegates Meeting June 14 - 16, 2013 in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The ASRT House of Delegates meets annually to debate and vote on motions and proposed changes to the ASRT Bylaws and to adopt clinical practice and educational standards. During the meeting, delegates' primary duties are to represent the radiologic science profession and their affiliates or chapters and take action on issues that affect professional practice. Indiana was represented at the meeting by both technologist and student ISRT members.

The Henry Konecny, RT(R) Student Scholarship is open to all entry level radiologic science students in Indiana. Over $2,000 in scholarships were awarded to students in 2013. Don’t wait, apply for the 2014 scholarships today! Applications must be postmarked by December 31 of the current calendar year to be considered. Complete information about the scholarship and how to apply can be found on the ISRT website at www.isort.org.
The 2013 Henry Konecny, RT(R) Student Scholarships were awarded to three deserving radiography students earlier this year. The purpose of the scholarships is to provide a cash award to assist in the educational expenses of entry level radiologic science students. Students applying for the scholarship were required to submit an application and statement of why they believed they should receive the award. A committee of ISRT members reviewed the applicant statements and judged them on content (format, spelling, grammar, cohesion of thought, and rationale of receiving the scholarship). Additionally, GPA and professional contribution and participation were also considered.

ISRT President Pat Cohen presented a combined total of two thousand five hundred dollars to the recipients.

Scholarship recipients were Danielle Guess, Lindsay Ganshorn, and Joshua Lawson. All three recipients are radiography students at Ball State University. Congratulations Danielle, Lindsay, and Joshua! The ISRT wishes you success in your future as medical imaging professionals!

The ISRT encourages all students to apply for the 2014 student scholarship.
MRI App Review: Monster Anatomy for iPad or iPhone

Have you been looking for a way to study cross-sectional anatomy for a class or MRI registry? Are you interested in having labeled cross-sectional anatomy at your fingertips? If you own an iPhone, iPad or iPod touch then the Monster Anatomy app is a great place to start. While the workspace in the MRI suite might have some anatomy books, the Monster Anatomy Upper or Lower Extremity app do the job of several textbooks. Developed in France, these applications take you through interactive axial, sagittal and coronal images of the upper and lower extremities.

The upper extremity application includes sections on the shoulder, arm (humerus), elbow, forearm, wrist, and hand. The foot, ankle, (lower) leg, knee, thigh (femur), and hip cross-sectional anatomy are included in the lower extremity application. Both applications allow the user to look at an entire set of images in the user’s choice of imaging planes (see image 1). Highlights of these applications include:

1. Cross-referenced images- Cross-reference images are present for each imaging plane chosen. The reference line is an interactive tool, which allows the user to scroll through the set of images with a touch of a finger.

2. Structure selection and identification-The user can select individual structures within the anatomy and the application will identify the anatomy for the user (see image 2). The anatomy will continue to be featured until a new structure is selected, which allows the user to view the same structure when scrolling throughout the image set. This feature allows users to trace the anatomy from its origination to insertion.

3. Variety of display modes by category - The user has the option to select viewing of muscles, bones, joints, vessels, or nerves. Selection of one of these options makes only that category of anatomy to be displayed. The application will also identify groups of structures. As seen in image 3, the application has bundled the anterior and medial compartment of the thigh while continuing to label the individual muscles in those groups.

4. Enlargement of image- Similar to any ipad or iphone image, the MRI image can be enlarged. With smaller or adjacent anatomical structures, enlargement of the image allows the user to perform closer discrimination of the anatomy.

As with any application there are some limitations to Monster Anatomy. Currently Monster Anatomy has produced applications for upper and lower extremity. Cross-sectional imaging of other areas of the body are not available. These applications currently cost $18.99 each, which if compared to an anatomy textbook is reasonable, but still a higher end application price. The long bones of the upper and lower extremities are only available to be viewed in the axial plane; coronal and sagittal images are not available for these areas. Images in both applications are only presented in T1-weighting. While T1-weighting is best to view anatomy, other image weighting (T2, gradient, and IR) are used in MRI imaging and technologist should be familiar with anatomy in any imaging presentation.

Monster Anatomy does provide a lite version of their upper and lower extremity application at no cost. Monster Anatomy Lite Knee is a great opportunity to experience the application and all its features before deciding to purchase the full version.

Image 1: The image seen is a t1-weighted coronal wrist found in the upper extremity application. The arrow is pointing to the variety of upper extremities available for review. The rectangle is highlighting the cross-reference feature of the application. The oval is pointing out the variety of imaging planes available.
Image 2: The image seen is a T1-weighted sagittal image of the shoulder found in the upper extremity application. The arrows are pointing to the variety of muscle anatomy available for the user to choose. Once selected by the user, the orb on the anatomy will stay highlighted until a new orb is selected.

Image 3: The image seen is a T1-weighted axial image of the hip joint. The top arrow is pointing to a group of muscles. The arrow at the bottom is identifying the name of the group of muscles. The oval is highlighting the section where users can choose to change the display of the type of anatomy.

FINANCIAL DEBT TO THE SOCIETY

- Any member who owes a financial debt to the Society and does not fulfill their financial obligations to the Society in a specified period of time will have their membership revoked. Membership will not be reinstated until all debts have been paid.
- Any nonmember who owes a debt to the Society and does not fulfill their obligations to the Society in a given period of time and, at a later date desires to join the Society, will not be granted membership until all debts have been paid.
- Any individual who does not repay the Society for a returned check for registration to an educational meeting or for a returned check for membership dues paid to register at educational meetings at a lower fee shall NOT receive continuing educational credits for lectures attended at said meetings.
- The ASRT, the ARRT, and any other appropriate organization will be notified of an individual whose educational credits for a meeting are revoked due to indebtedness to the Society.

RETURNED CHECK NOTICE

Each time a check is returned to the ISRT for non-sufficient funds or account closed, the Executive Secretary will contact the individual about the check. In order to reinstate your ISRT membership and/or validate any continuing education earned, if the check was for an educational conference, a cashier’s check or money order for the amount owed plus any additional bank fees to cover the cost incurred by the ISRT must be sent to the Executive Secretary.

ATTENTION STUDENTS:

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT

★ Courses have been submitted for and are pending approval by the ASRT for Category A or Category A+, continuing education credit.

★ All attendees will be provided with verification of attendance for lectures attended. Verification will be mailed to you within 30 days of the close of the Annual Conference.

★ Lectures must meet ASRT requirements for time to receive full credit. Each hour of lecture equates to one (1) Category A (or A+) CE credit unless specified otherwise.

★ Attendees must be seated in the lecture room prior to the scheduled start time of each lecture. Individuals arriving after a lecture’s scheduled start time will not be admitted into the lecture room.

★ Individuals must be present during the entire lecture to receive credit. Leaving the lecture room prior to the end of a lecture will result in automatic loss of that lecture credit.

★ Individuals are encouraged to keep a copy of the program booklet with the course descriptions if further course content is needed for attendance verification at a later date.

★ It is the responsibility of individual conference attendees to submit documentation of attendance and continuing education credits earned to the ASRT or other tracking organizations.

★ Individual participants are responsible for submitting attendance verification, speaker credentials, and any other required information to state agencies requiring them to do so.

Last but not least...

★ The educational program is tentative. The Annual Conference Committee reserves the right to change the program as needed.

★ Please check your time zone with that of the hotel so that you do not arrive late. If you have questions about the time zone, please contact the hotel for clarification. Please plan enough time to locate the facility, park, register and find the meeting room.

★ Please bring a sweater or jacket for lectures as the temperature in the meeting rooms can sometimes vary.

★ We are not able to provide child care services during the educational meetings. Please do not bring children to the educational sessions.

★ If you have any special needs or require special accommodations, please let the Annual Conference Committee know how we may assist you.
LECTURE SCHEDULE

- Attendees must be seated in the lecture room prior to the scheduled start time of each lecture. Individuals arriving after a lecture’s scheduled start time will not be admitted into the lecture room.
- Individuals must be present during the entire lecture to receive credit. Leaving the lecture room prior to the end of a lecture will result in automatic loss of that lecture credit.
- Lectures must meet ASRT requirements for time to receive full credit. Each hour of lecture equates to one (1) Category A CE credit unless specified otherwise. Lectures must be a minimum of 50 minutes in length to receive one (1) CE credit. The amount of CE credit awarded will be reduced in the event a lecture does not meet the minimum ASRT requirements for time.

IDENTIFICATION OF CONFERENCE ATTENDEES & GUESTS

NAME BADGES - Each individual registered for the conference will be given a name badge. Please wear your name badge during the conference, this is your identification to others and a necessary part of the attendance verification process. Sharing of name badges is not allowed.

GUESTS - Guest badges are available for a spouse or companion who wishes to join you during some or all of the conference. Names must be provided for all guest badge requests. Registered technologists, radiologic science students or commercial representatives may NOT register as a guest.

EXHIBIT ROOM

- The Exhibit Room will be open on Thursday and Friday. View the displays competing in the Scientific Exhibit Competition as well as the information booths sponsored by the ISRT and the ASRT. Commercial representatives are always anxious to meet new contacts and explain their services so don’t forget to stop by and say hello to them as well. You won’t want to miss this exciting aspect of the conference.
- Hours for the Exhibit Room* are as follows:
  - Thursday, October 3, 2013 8:00 AM-6:30 PM
  - Friday, October 4, 2013 8:00 AM-4:30 PM

*Please note that not all commercial exhibitors may elect to exhibit both days.

BREAKS

- Breaks are scheduled between each speaker. Please see the program schedule for details about length of breaks and scheduled times.
- Water stations will be available in the lecture and exhibit rooms for your convenience.

MEALS

The ISRT has planned two luncheon buffets for the convenience of our conference attendees. Skip the traffic and lunch rush outside the hotel by purchasing lunch tickets from the ISRT with your registration. Luncheon tickets are available by advance purchase only. Breakfast and dinner during the conference are “on your own”.

JOIN THE ISRT FOR LUNCH - The Annual Conference Committee invites all attendees to join them in the Allegra Restaurant for special buffet luncheons on Thursday and Friday.

Thursday’s luncheon buffet includes hot dogs with Coney Island sauce, hamburgers, cheeseburgers, and a supreme condiment bar to top them off! Tossed salad, cole slaw, baked beans, rolls, dessert, tea, and coffee are included in the price of lunch.

Friday’s Italian themed luncheon buffet will offer spaghetti with meat marina, pasta penne primavera, Italian breads, and crisp field green salad. Dessert, tea and coffee are also included in the price of this buffet.

The price of each luncheon is $18.00 and all conference attendees are invited to attend.

HOTEL DINING

- The Allegra Restaurant offers breakfast and dinner inside the Holiday Inn Hotel. Savor the continental cuisine of casual dining and daily chef specials. Breakfast buffet at Allegra is included with all guest rooms.

ADDITIONAL NEARBY CASUAL DINING

- Evansville offers many other dining choices just a short drive away. Check with the hotel reception desk for suggestions and directions.

HOTEL INFORMATION

Please read and understand the following hotel policies set forth by the Holiday Inn Evansville Airport:

GUARANTEED RESERVATIONS
A credit card or a deposit of the first night’s room and tax are required to guarantee hotel guest room reservation. Holiday Inn Corporation no longer accepts 6PM hold as a method of reservations.

CUT-OFF DATE
Hotel guest room reservations by attendees must be received on or before, September 12, 2013. At the Cut-Off Date, Hotel will review the reservation pick up for the Event, release the unreserved rooms for general sale, and determine whether or not it can accept reservations based on a space- and rate-available basis at the Indiana Society of Radiologic Technologist group rate after this date.

NO PARTY POLICY
It gives us great pleasure to welcome you to the Holiday Inn Evansville Airport. Thank you for choosing to stay with us. Our goal for the Holiday Inn is twofold. First, we want to wow our guests with lots of thoughtful amenities. Second, we want to provide a value that is unsurpassed by other hotel chains. The Holiday Inn staff will do everything in our power to make your visit with us as comfortable as possible. As well, we want to ensure that all of our other guests are enjoying their stay as much as you are. With this in mind, we ask for your cooperation in with the following policies:

- All guestrooms will be occupied by at least one individual over the age of 21. Fire code permits no more that five people in a guestroom at one time.
- All guests under the age of 17 must be absent from the public areas and hallways after 10:00 PM.
- An adult must accompany guests under the age of 17 at all times.
- Consumption of alcohol by minors on hotel premises is not permitted.
- No parties in any guestrooms or hallways will be permitted.
- Legal action will be taken against anyone responsible for destroying hotel property or the property of others while on hotel grounds.
- Engagement of the hotel fire alarm system, smoke detectors, pull stations, fire extinguisher and the contacting of emergency personnel as an act of malice or play is a crime and is punishable by law.
- Inventory of guestroom supplies (towels, ashtrays, phones, blankets, sheets, pillows, etc.) will be inventoried on a daily basis. Missing items will be billed to the occupying party.
- Towels are provided in the pool area. Please do not utilize towels from guestrooms for pool use.
- The fitness center, business center, hotel atrium are off limits to guests under the age of 17. Unless they are in attendance for a banquet function.
- The hotel elevators are not to be utilized for play or entertainment purposes.
- Running, yelling, throwing of foreign objects, swearing, etc will not be tolerated.

Your compliance to the above rules will ensure all guests in the hotel will have a pleasant visit. We are looking forward to having you as our guest.

LIQUOR LICENSE
Indiana Society of Radiologic Technologist understands that Hotel’s liquor license requires that alcoholic beverages only be dispensed by Hotel employees/bartenders with a valid liquor license. Alcoholic beverage service will be denied to those guests who appear to be intoxicated or are under age. If any guest attending the ISRT Annual Conference is consuming an alcoholic beverage, that has not been purchased from our Hotel, in any of the hotel’s function rooms, a $200.00 fee will automatically be billed to you. It is illegal to bring in liquor to a facility that has the correct and proper licensing to serve liquor.
